DEMOCRATIC LEADER QUOTED IN THE HOUSE.

Japan Files a Protest—The Proposed Annexation of Hawaii by the United States Is Displeasing to the Statesmen of the Mikado's Empire—Washington News.

Washington, June 24.—After a contest lasting through the day the senate completed the paragraphs of the wool schedule relating to raw wool and advanced into the features relating to manufactured woolen goods. The day was devoted largely to a discussion of the effect of tariff rates on the price of wool, and the speeches were on technical lines.

At one point Mr. Hoar diverted the discussion by a reference to William J. Bryan's opposition to the tariff. This brought Senators Mantle and Allen and Stewart to the defense of Mr. Bryan. Mr. Teller was drawn into the controversy, and in a few remarks warned his former Republican associates that their hopes of prosperity from this bill would be blasted.

Mr. Quay made a strong effort to have the house ad valorem rates on third class wool adopted, but he was defeated—19 to 41. The committee rates were then agreed to—4 cents per pound on third-class wool valued at 10 cents or less per pound, and 7 cents per pound on third-class wool valued above 10 cents per pound. The schedule was completed up to paragraph 364, relating to cloths, knit fabrics, etc.

Early in the day Mr. Allen (Neb.), rising to a question of personal privilege, made a sweeping denial of public charges that William J. Bryan had contributed $1,500 to the Populist cause in order to effect fusion. He said Mr. Bryan had determined to divide the royalties on his book, and in doing so he allotted $1,500 to the Populist party. The draft was sent to Mr. Allen, but the chairman of the Populist national committee (Senator Butler, N. C.) declined to accept it. Thereupon, at the suggestion of Mr. Bryan, Mr. Allen invested the amount to be used in the interest of bimetalism. Mr. Allen declared that the statement that any agreement existed as to fusion in connection with the gift was "an absolute and unqualified falsehood." There had never been, he declared, an attempt to fuse the parties, either nationally or locally. The senator closed with a high tribute to Mr. Bryan and an arraignment of Prof. Bateman.

Mr. Butler stated briefly that the offer was made to him, but he felt impelled to decline it. He approved Mr. Bryan's motive, but felt that the acceptance might be open to misconception. The offer had been made, he said, without any condition, expressed or implied.

JAPAN RATHER VIGOROUS.

Character of Her Protest Causes Some Concern at Washington.

Washington, June 24.—The Hawaiian annexation treaty formed the principal topic of consideration by the senate committee on foreign relations at its brief session Wednesday. The treaty and accompanying papers were read and referred to a sub-committee consisting of Senators Davis, Foraker and Morgan, with instructions to investigate the entire question and report to the full committee. The papers read included the protest made by Japan against annexation. The protest was accepted as almost an ultimatum on Japan's part to the effect that the treaty must not be perfected. It is not a protest against the form of the document, as had been supposed in some quarters, but against the transaction, as being opposed to Japan's interest. The specific reason alleged for the protest is that the consummation of the agreement between Hawaii and the United States would disturb the existing trade relations of the North Pacific and nullify treaty rights.

The opinion was expressed in the committee that a document of the character of that filed by Japan would, if presented by a nation more nearly the equal of the United States, lead to very serious difficulties, but there is a general desire to extend unusual consideration toward the Asiatic state, not only because of the uniformly friendly relations existing between that country and this, but also because it is felt that Japan's success in her war with China may have had the effect of arousing a spirit of combativeness which is not warranted, in the opinion of the members of the committee, by her relative size and importance as compared with the United States.

Senator Morgan has introduced a bill for the annexation of the Hawaiian islands. The bill provides that the islands shall become a territory of the United States in accordance with the terms of the recently negotiated treaty. The date set for the extension of the laws of this country over the islands is March 4, 1898, but it is specifically provided that they may be put in force at an earlier day if congress so directs. In reply to a question Senator Morgan said that his bill was intended to carry the annexation treaty into execution in case it should be ratified by the senate, or to provide for its ratification by the joint action of the two houses in case the senate should refuse to act.

A STRIKE IMMINENT IN IRON REGION

PARALYSIS OF THE BUSINESS THREATENED.

Both Sides Are Obstinate—Wheels of the Iron and Steel Industry of the Country May Be Blocked Next Week—Workers Will Insist On a Conference.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 24.—The Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers and the employers met here Wednesday to discuss the wage scale. An adjournment was taken until today, without any agreement having been reached. If a settlement is not made before next Wednesday all the union sheet mills in the country will close. The possibility of a failure to agree has stimulated the sheet market. Prices have stiffened and the demand is greater than it has been for several months. Manufacturers say they do not look on this improvement as permanent.

There seems to be no doubt of a suspension of work in the union iron mills on next Wednesday night. The conference on the iron wage scale is to be held on that day, and there is no probability of a settlement at that time. The workers will insist on their demand for a continuance of the $4.50 a ton puddling rate, while the manufacturers will claim it is impossible to pay that price while so many non-union concerns are operating at the $4 a ton rate.

No date has yet been fixed for a further conference on the tin-plate scale, but one will likely be held within a few days. If the workers' scale is not signed in conference it seems certain that a number of manufacturers will concede the terms and operate their plants.

It has just been made public that at the recent meeting of the manufacturers' association, held in Pittsburg, an agreement on prices was abrogated, and the market has become an open one again.

Insist on a Conference.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 24.—There is little doubt that 900 employees at the Bay View works of the Illinois Steel company will go on a strike July 2. A committee of their union waited on Superintendent Thomas S. Reis with the scale for next year, but Mr. Reis turned them curtly away. They now say that unless a conference is granted by the date mentioned they will quit work.

MANY SPANIARDS HANGED.

The forces of the Iberia battalion recently had an engagement with the insurgents at La Comadre, in Pinar del Rio province. The Cubans retreated. The Spanish loss was fourteen killed and nine wounded. Thomas Amores was shot for aiding the rebellion, as was also Antoni Jordan.

Gen. Weyler has left Havana on board the gunboat Pizarro. It is said he is going to Santiago de Cuba province. At Trinidad over 400 persons have been assembled by the order of Weyler.

Rich Cargo on Board.

Key West, Fla., June 24.—The tug Dauntless was towed into this port by the revenue cutter McLane at 8 o'clock Monday night. Nothing definite of her last trip is known, but many rumors are afloat. It is well known that the Biscayne transferred some arms to the Dauntless on the high seas. When the Dauntless left here some days ago it is said she had on board about thirty Cubans, and the next heard of her was that she was anchored at Indian key last Sunday, having been picked up in a disabled condition and towed to that place by the steamer Biscayne.

NINE PEOPLE HURT AT KANSAS CITY

FALLING ELEVATOR INSURES THE PASSENGERS.

Violation of a Rule In the House Brings Disaster—Elevator Boy Makes a Gallant Attempt to Save His Charges Carelessness Caused the Accident.

Kansas City, Mo., June 24.—The old hand-power elevator in the C. J. Baker Tent and Awning Company's factory, at 104 West Third street, fell forty feet at 7:40 o'clock Wednesday night, carrying with it nine employees of the firm, all of whom are more or less hurt. The injured are:

Mrs. M. H. Johnson, both legs broken; amputation will be necessary.
Mrs. Emma Miller, left leg broken.
Ernest J. Parker, left heel fractured, back injured.
Mrs. Josephine Proctor, back sprained.

Lena R. Eichenwald.
Ollie Hoag.
Mamie Bridgeman, not seriously.
Jessie Robinson, not seriously.

It is believed the accident was due to careless handling of the elevator. Employees had been forbidden to ride on the elevator, but the rule had been violated. Many of the operatives worked later than usual, and when their work was ended they made a rush for the elevator. Eight women and one man—the one who runs the elevator—crowded on and started for the bottom with a rush. The boy could not control it, though he tore all the flesh off his hands in the effort. There was no air-cushion at the bottom to break the force of the fall, and the elevator struck with a crash, throwing the screaming women in a confused heap.

Mrs. Johnson's injuries will probably prove fatal.

NORWEGIAN LUTHERANS.

Appropriations for the Coming Year are Made.

St. Paul, Minn., June 24.—A large amount of business was transacted Wednesday at the convention of the United Norwegian Lutheran Church. The first appropriation of the Norwegian Lutheran convention was that of $10,000, which goes to the home mission. There is a deficit of about $10,000, and the convention decided to authorize the mission superintendent to undertake a collection within the congregation to lift the debt.

St. Olaf College, Northfield, requested the convention, through its board of trustees, that $2,500 be donated out of the next proceeds of the Augsburg publishing house. The convention finally decided to support it as before, by voluntary contributions.

One of the most important reports of the convention is that on treasurer and board of trustees. The report expresses great satisfaction with the fact that the professor fund is increased $2,458.43. The board of trustees was authorized to do what it can to look up matters at the normal school at Madison.

The board of trustees was authorized to do what it saw fit with reference to the building of a home for orphans at Beloit.

The total profits of Augsburg Publishing House for last year was $5,129. It was decided to discuss the use of the English language at the next convention.

About twenty congregations and three ministers have been adopted by the church during the convention.

A crew of Yale freshmen rowed the two-mile course in 9 minutes 19 1/2 seconds; a trike lighter crew of Harvard freshmen fought them every inch of the way, and finished a trifle over two lengths behind them, in 9:26 1/2, and the Cornell freshmen, whose college record is that none of its freshmen crews has ever been beaten before finished a length behind Harvard in 9:29 1/2. The best previous record for two miles was 9:41, made by the Columbia freshmen crew of '94 at New London in 1891.

FRED WHITE NAMED.

Nominated for Governor by the Iowa Silver Fusionists

Des Moines, Iowa, June 24.—Fred E. White, the Keokuk county politician and farmer, was nominated for governor by the tri-headed silver fusionist convention. He was quickly chosen by the Democrats after showing overwhelming strength on the informal ballot, and was as quickly indorsed by the Populists and free-silver Republicans. It had been supposed that the Populists would be given the lieutenant governor and railway commissioner, but the demands of the free-silver Republicans were so great and were insisted upon with so much determination that after they were satisfied there was not much left for the Populists. The full ticket is as follows: Governor, Fred E. White; lieutenant governor, B. A. Plummer; judge supreme court, L. M. Kinne; railroad commissioner, S. B. Crane; superintendent instruction, G. F. Rhinehart.

The platform was read by Chairman Healy of the state committee. It demands that the state institutions be governed by a non-partisan board of control; denounces the anti-fusion act; and the "law that permits the state printer and state binder to charge extortionate fees for work done, thus robbing the people." The pending tariff bill is denounced in vigorous language.

CALL UPON VICTORIA.

London, June 24.—The chief event of the diamond jubilee ceremonies Wednesday was the reception by Queen Victoria of the members of both houses of Parliament, who presented congratulatory addresses to the sovereign. The last occasion was the presentation of an address acknowledging the reception of the Queen's message announcing the declaration of war against Russia. Not since the early '40s, when addresses were made congratulating the Queen on the failure of attempts at assassination, has she received the two houses together.

Methodist Laymen Protest.

Indianapolis, June 24.—Methodist laymen from all parts of the state held a conference here Wednesday to consider means for securing more power in the affairs of the church, and several speakers advocated measures that would amount to a revolution if carried out. ## THIS WAS FIELD DAY AT MILTON COLLEGE

THE COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES HAVE BEGUN.

The School's Founder Was Joseph Goodrich, Who Built It When There Were Only Four Residences In the Town—The Closing Exercises of the Academy In 1849.

Milton College, one of the oldest educational institutions in the state, began its commencement exercises today. Milton Academy, the forerunner of Milton College, was started in a little one-story building four years before Wisconsin took on the honors of statehood. The work of giving the children of the commonwealth the advantages of a higher education then begun has been continued uninterruptedly from that time to the present.

From old Milton have been graduated some of the most prominent educators in the state. Elder Whitford, as the venerable president, is known to the thousands of his old pupils, will next year complete forty years' service at the head of the institution. His brother, Professor Albert Whitford, passed the forty-year mark several years ago.

Milton has always been noted more for the quality rather than the quantity of its graduates. Among the alumni who each year gather in the old halls are to be found some of the leading educators in this and other states.

Today Was Field Day.

The exercises this year opened with a field day today followed in the evening with a public session of the Orophilian society and an address by Dr. James Mills of Janesville. At the public session of the Philomathean society on Saturday Professor Dighton W. Shaw of New Auburn, Minn., will deliver an address. The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by President Whitford Sunday evening. The commencement exercises proper will be held Wednesday, June 30, in a large tent on the campus. The annual meeting of the alumni association will be held in the afternoon, Rev. L. A. Platts of Milton, president of the association, and Rev. A. H. Lewis of Plainfield, N. J., will deliver addresses. The alumni banquet will be held in the college chapel at 5 o'clock, and the program will conclude with a concert by the Schubert Quartet of Chicago.

J. Goodrich, the Founder.

It was in the summer of 1845 in the then territory of Wisconsin that the late Hon. Joseph Goodrich erected in Milton an odd looking structure for the use of an academic school. Its walls were composed of gravel and lime in the form of concrete. In size it was 26x30 feet, one story with a "lean-to" in the rear and across its front was stretched a sign, "Milton Academy." This school opened when there were only four dwelling houses in the village. At that time there was no college in Wisconsin, and only four feeble academies located at Kenosha, Waukesha, Beloit and Platteville, the university at Appleton being chartered in 1847 but no classes being organized until 1849.

The first teacher in Milton academy was the Rev. Bethnel O. Church, in 1844, who came from Michigan. He was followed by the Rev. S. S. Bicknell in 1847, a Congregational clergyman and a graduate of Dartmouth, and at that time there were sixty-seven pupils in attendance, forty male and twenty-seven female, the educational feature being a foundation stone in this academy.

Academy Charter Secured.

In 1848 an academy charter was granted by the legislature and after Professor Jonathan Allen, who was for many years after, and until his death, president of Alfred, N. Y., university, was elected principal. The Rev. A. W. Cohn, a Seventh Day Baptist minister, came next, being assisted a portion of the time by President W. C. Whitford, at that time a member of the senior class in Union (N. Y.) college. The closing exercises of the academy in 1849 were entitled "Annual Celebration of the Du Lac Academy," and noticeable features were the occupancy of the whole day, aside from the noon hour, by a program comprising music, thirty-six original essays, three orations, including one in Latin, and the valedictory, delivered by ex-Congressman L. B. Caswell of Fort Atkinson, on "American Independence."

College in the War.

Professor A. C. Spicer took the principalship in 1891, and was succeeded in 1895 by President Whitford, who has been at its head since, with the exception of four years he spent as superintendent of public instruction, and to him belongs the honor of being the oldest college president, in continuous service, in Wisconsin. During the war of the rebellion, 311 of Milton's students volunteered in the service, forty-three of whom fell in battle and from disease, and sixty-nine received commissions from second lieutenant to brigadier general.

News Notes From Afton.

HE IS REV. F. L. HAYDEN NOW

Former Janesville Newspaper Man Becomes a Minister.

Rev. Frank L. Hayden, who was formerly a Janesville newspaper man, and who is now pastor of the Presbyterian church at Kearney, Neb., has been honored with the degree of D.D. by Hastings college. The decision of the faculty was confirmed by the educational board, made up of the different presbyteries. Only six such degrees have been granted by the college in the past fourteen years.

Dr. Hayden was city editor of the Janesville Morning Chronicle, founded by T. S. Nolan and F. J. Myhr, several years ago. Before that he was employed in C. W. Wisch's barber shop. He went from Janesville to Council Bluffs, Iowa, became editor of a Council Bluffs daily, and later was managing editor of the Omaha World-Herald, since controlled by W. J. Bryan.

He went into evangelistic work in Nebraska, and succeeded so well that he was called to a regular charge.

ASKING FOR SMALL NOTES

Treasury Officials Feel the Effects of Returning Prosperity.

The treasury department within the last week has received a considerable number of requests for small notes in unusually large quantities. This inquiry was entirely unexpected and is regarded by treasury officials as an indication of improving business conditions. At least once a year the treasury receive demands for small notes from the west and south where they are needed for the movement of crops. Rarely, however, has the inquiry begun earlier than the tenth or middle of July, and therefore it is assumed that the call for notes of small denominations is not in anticipation of the crop movement.

ARE TO PUT DOWN MACADAM

Part of North Jackson Street To Be Fixed with Stone.

A portion of North Jackson street is to be macadamized under the direction of Street Commissioner Palmer. The block between Milwaukee and Wall streets, will be fixed first. S. D. Grubb and C. E. Bowles, who own the greater portion of the property, have made the purchase of a car of Waukesha curbing stone, to be used as soon as the work of macadamizing begins. The street has been surveyed, and the improvement will be begun at once.

TO WIND UP THE SOCIETY.

Attorney Jeffris Expected to Apply for Receiver.

M. G. Jeffris has charge of the foreclosure proceedings against the State Agricultural society on behalf of the state. It is said that Mr. Jeffris will move before Judge Johnson for the appointment of a receiver to wind up the affairs of the society. The foreclosure suit which has been pending in the circuit court for some weeks, will probably be disposed of before the courts adjourn for the summer.

A Card of Thanks.

The family of Mrs. A. A. Corwin wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to all their friends, who so kindly remembered them in their hour of bereavement.

REPLANT THE CORN THAT DIDN'T GROW

THE FARMERS MUST DO WORK OVER AGAIN.

It Failed to Come Up Owing to the Seed Rotting in the Ground—Rains Do More Or Less Damage—Much Resetting of Tobacco Plants Will Be Done.

The weather conditions during the week have been characterized by high temperature and heavy rainfall. The week opened extremely warm, the temperature of the state being generally above 90 degrees. This was followed by threatening weather, with thunder storms, accompanied by heavy rain, and in some instances hail, on the 16th and 17th. These storms were especially severe in the southern counties, where in some localities the precipitation amounted to three inches in twenty-four hours, resulting in washouts and more or less damage to crops. The weather continued unsettled to the end of the week, with frequent and severe local storms, but with much lower temperature.

All growing crops have made excellent progress during the week, but the rapid growth has been somewhat checked by the cool weather at the end of the week.

Rains Did Good.

The rains and the hot weather have been of the greatest benefit to corn, which shows marked improvement. It is yet very small, but has assumed a very healthy color and gives fair promise. Much corn was planted during the first of the week, also some potatoes which failed to come up on account of the seed rotting in the ground. Oats and spring wheat are making good headway. Barley is headway in the middle and southern counties. The crop is reported as fair, having been somewhat injured by frost. Hay will be a light crop generally. Clover is in full bloom and cutting will begin in southern counties next week. Winter wheat and rye are improving, though the stand is very light. Tobacco plants that were set last week were badly wilted by the hot weather and much resetting will be done. Fruit proves to have been considerably damaged by the frosts but by no means ruined, except in a few localities.

MORE WORK FOR EMPLOYEES

Car Shops of the St. Paul Road To Run Full Time.

The employees of the West Milwaukee car shops of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, have received notice that after July 1, the shops will be run full time, and every day in the week. For a year the shops have been run only eight hours a day, and but five days a week. The change will affect about 1,000 men. Similar orders have been issued in the shops of the company at Green Bay, Minneapolis and elsewhere. The reason for the resumption of work on full time, is given as the general increase in the business of the road, and the increasing demand for cars. The company desires to be able to supply all cars that may be called for, and to that end will get available cars in a condition of good repair.

THE HORTICULTURISTS MEET.

Annual Summer Meeting Being Held at Omro.

The State Horticultural society is holding its summer meeting at Omro. Dr. Ford, president of the Village board, gave the address of welcome which was responded to by A. J. Phillips, secretary of the society. George J. Kellogg of Janesville read a paper on "What I Know of Strawberries After Twenty Years' Experience." Mrs. D. Huntley of Appleton read a paper on "What Can We Do for Our Homes?" Discussions were had on the gooseberry, currant and plum. The local society entertained this evening with music and recitations. The display of strawberries is fine. Mr. Kellogg of Janesville known as the "Strawberry King" has fifty-eight varieties and thirty varieties of roses.

NOT MUCH DOING IN LEAF

Local Market Is Only Enlivened by Occasional Sales.

An occasional sale takes place in the local tobacco market, which breaks the present spell of dullness, but few deals of importance have been recorded.

S. B. Heddles reports the sale of one hundred cases of fillers, and exports to I. G. Britton of Deerfield. J. L. & M. F. Greene have sold to eastern parties, sixty-four cases of old goods at good figures.

George H. Rumrill has made the sale of thirty-five cases of '96 fillers to Stoughton buyers.

Six cars of tobacco are being loaded in this city this week by J. L. & M. F. Greene, for shipment to eastern parties.

WOODMEN MUST PAY $81.65.

Trip to DeKalb Will Cost the Lodge That Sum Above Receipts.

For the pleasure of attending the recent Woodmen picnic at KeKalk the local camp must pay $81.65, which sum comes from their treasury, in order to meet the expenses. This was made necessary on account of the small number who were in attendance from this city. The expenses this year were as heavy as they have ever been, and the guaranteeing of 150 passengers in order to secure the special train and the paying of the Imperial band, were the two largest items of expense.

AID 4—Wrappers, white dimity and muslin; very choice styles. About two dozen garments. Although made to sell at two to four times what we ask for them. We have put the price at 98c.

AID 5—In our last "ad." we mentioned black muslin Wrappers with small colored flowers, sheer quality, at $1.50. To push the sale of them we offer the lot at a figure that will do it—$1.15.

AID 6—McCall Bazar Patterns. We took the agency for them the first of the year, but reluctantly, as we were not very favorably inclined toward patterns. We have been pleasantly surprised by the large number of patterns sold. They give excellent satisfaction, are up to date, easy to understand, sure fitting, and only 10c and 15c. Women tell us (but we know it full well) that it is all nonsense paying high prices for patterns when one can get the McCall Patterns at 10 and 15c.

A HEAVY ROAD TAX.

The heaviest road tax paid by Rock county farmers is not collected by the town treasurer. The farmer who goes to town instead of once to haul a load has increased his road tax materially. In spite of this he too often objects to paying $1 for broken stone that would save him $2 in time, labor and horse-flesh.

He understands that when he cuts grass with a scythe where a mowing machine could be used he is taxing himself the increased labor. Before long he will extend his reasoning along the same line and will concede that good roads between farm and market decrease rather than increase the farmers' taxes.

BIG PLANS FOR THE FOURTH.

The senate is making remarkable progress with the tariff bill considering the fact that it is not a republican body and not controlled by the republican party. The fact that the protective sentiment is gaining strength every year in the several parties in that body is the one cause of success which the republican leaders have had in pushing the tariff bill rapidly. There is reason now to believe that the tariff bill will pass the senate before the end of the month and President McKinley's ambition to attach his signature as one way of celebrating the Fourth of July may be realized.

Many will envy D. K. Pearson the pleasure and honor that comes to him in his yearly visits to Beloit college. He sees on every hand the good his money is doing and knows that every dollar he has given is working for the enlightening and upbuilding of the northwest. Judgment has characterized each of his benefactions—judgment and such tact and consideration as led to the choice of Professor Emerson's name for the new college hall, and that has connected permanently with the life of the college the names of the men who were instrumental in giving the school individuality and strength.

The charge is made by the Lutheran general synod that certain denominations are using missionary money collected in America to win Lutherans in Europe, getting them to forsake their own church and join another. Such charges as these will make doubters still more doubtful as to whether foreign mission work is advisable when so much home mission work remains to be done.

H. A. Taylor, of Madison, was vice president of the new anti-trust telephone association in Detroit yesterday, and says he has no further desire to holler down the Bell company's rain barrel.

The tactics of the lively company of Waukesha complainants suggests that they are after Superintendent Hart a good deal harder than they are defending young Mr. Meisauik and his razor.

The Boston bank clerk who stole $30,000 says he was tempted by his desire to have a bicycle. He must have expected to comply with all the lamp and bell ordinances as well.

Mr. Debs in his new plan to draw assessments from underpaid workmen is arranging to ignore Uncle Sam entirely, but to make the aid of the other uncles quite essential.

Three newspaper men are candidates for congress in the Tenth district of this state and the certainty that the people will be well represented is very gratifying.

Victoria, the Good, is the title that has fallen on England's ruler by universal consent, during the jubilee period. No other jubilee honor carries half the glory.

The fact that General Miles was only one and of the jubilee procession suggests that England was blind to her grandest opportunity.

CHICAGO MARKETS BY WIRE

Robert Lindblom's Letter On the Condition of Crops and Trade.

Chicago, June 24.—[Special to Byrd & Law Commission Co.]—The July shorts had a scare last night on the curb, and it was continued this morning. The short interest is mostly in the shape of spreads between September and July, but there was plenty of July wheat for sale today above seventy cents, and it is a trifle ridiculous to talk about a July contract thirty-six days before July contracts mature. The chances are that the shorts will be scared ashore long before that time, and the bulls be anxious to accommodate them, but the bulls themselves probably do not know what they intend to do. It depends on circumstances to turn up in the future, and in the meantime all talk about corners is ridiculous. Corners which are advertised do not materialize.

September wheat and corn had a little rally on reported damage to corn in Russia. It is the same report which we had three days ago through the public press, but it gained importance by being sent over the private wires.

There is a good deal of bull talk on corn. Everybody believes that something is going to happen to the corn crop and that prices will advance. This feeling is so unanimous that we are a little bit skeptical in regard to it and begin to think that perhaps it has been anticipated and that if the damage fails to materialize there may be a lot of disappointed bulls who will sell out their holdings.

Provisions are very firm and we are bulls on them, regardless of what may happen to the corn crop.

British Ship Overdue.

Portsmouth, Eng., June 24.—Considerable anxiety is felt here at the non-arrival at this port to take part in the great naval review of the British training brig Sea Lark. She was due here last Thursday, but has not been seen since Friday. It is believed the brig experienced the full force of the recent gales, and some mishap is feared. The Sea Lark has a crew of forty-one officers and men and eighty boys. She left Queen's Ferry June 12 for Portsmouth. She reported herself June 18 off Grimsby as somewhat disabled and as having been delayed by head winds.

Lynch Law in Russia.

Odessa, June 24.—While three policemen were conveying a notorious highway robber and murderer named Dudnik from Novibourg to Kherson, they were waylaid by a mob of 300 infuriated peasants, including women and children, who seized the prisoner and cudgelled, stoned and kicked him to death. Thirty-five of the crowd have been arrested, but it is not probable that they will be severely treated. Lynching is a very rare occurrence in Russia.

COMMON SENSE CURE.

Pyramid Pile Cure Cures Piles Permanently by Curing the Cause.

Remarkable Remedy Which Is Bringing Comfort to Thousands of Sufferers.

Probably half the people who see this article suffer from piles. It is one of the commonest diseases and one of the most obstinate. People have it for years and just because it is not immediately fatal they neglect it. Carelessness causes no end of suffering. Carelessness about so simple a thing as piles has often caused death. Hemorrhages occur from no apparent cause and loss of blood causes death. Hemorrhages occur during surgical treatment, often causing death.

Piles are simple in the beginning and easily cured. They can be cured even in the worst stages, without pain or loss of blood, quickly, surely and completely. There is only one remedy that will do it—Pyramid Pile Cure.

It allays the inflammation immediately, heals the irritated surface and with continued treatment reduces the swelling and puts the membranes into good, sound, healthy condition. The cure is thorough and permanent.

Here are some voluntary and unsolicited testimonials that we have lately received:

Mrs. M. C. Hinkley, 601 Mississippi St., Indianapolis, Ind., says: "Have been a sufferer from the pain and annoyance of Piles for fifteen years, the Pyramid Pile Cure and Pyramid Pills gave me immediate relief and in a short time a complete cure."

Major Dean, of Columbus, Ohio, says: "I wish to add to the number of certificates as to the benefits derived from Pyramid Pile Cure. I suffered from Piles for forty years and from itching piles for twenty years and two boxes of the Pyramid Pile Cure has effectually cured me."

Most druggists sell Pyramid Pile Cure or will get it for you if you ask them to. It is one dollar per package and is put up only by the Pyramid Drug Co., Albion, Mich.

Eighty-Seven Wolff-Americans

Are in daily use by street inspectors in New York city. The severe test of a year's continuous hard riding—summer and winter—over cobble-stones and the roughest roads—in all sorts of weather—under the most adverse conditions—demonstrates the durability of wheels more conclusively than pastime riding over good roads or track racing by paid riders.

Expert Janesville machinists are enthusiastic over the Wolff-American's construction. No other $60 wheel has equalled Wolff-American sales in Janesville this year.

QUEEN DID NOT PAY FOR DR. HORNE'S DOG

VICTORIA OWES THE JANESVILLE MAN $100

Fine Newfoundland Canine Was Sold to Her Through Prince Albert in 1848, But the Bill Remains Unsettled to This Day—Beast Put in the Royal Kennel.

Queen Victoria, with all her millions of wealth is today debtor to a resident of this city to the amount of $100.

Dr. William Horne says she owes him that sum.

He sold her a Newfoundland dog and she did not settle the bill. In 1848 Dr. Horne, then a resident of England, was the possessor of a valuable blue blooded canine. The animal was of the Newfoundland breed and was so admired by all that many people suggested to the doctor that the canine could be transferred to the royal kennels.

George K. Horne, a brother of the doctor, who is now located in Australia, was during his residence in England, intimately acquainted with members of the royal family, and especially with Prince Albert. Mr. Horne frequently made business transactions with the prince, and once told him of the merits of this much prized dog.

Bill Was Not Paid.

The idea of the animal finding a place in the queen's kennels seemed to please the prince and the deal was at once closed. The doctor, feeling highly elated over the honor, set about to prepare the animal for shipment and a box that was fitted without and within with safety appliances in order that the beast might not be hurt, was soon prepared. The journey to the royal kennels was then begun. The price agreed on was equal to about $100 in our money. Weeks, months and years passed, the doctor says, yet he did not receive his stipend for that dog, nor did he even receive thanks.

Several letters from the doctor's pen were addressed to different members of the royal family, asking for an explanation, but none of them were answered. The venerable doctor is now of the opinion that the prospects of receiving his pay from the queen are not of the brightest, so he has charged the $100 to the profit and loss account.

THE WILLEY CASE ON TRIAL.

Judge Sale is Listening to the Evidence Today.

The case of J. F. Willey vs. the Malachi L. Richardson estate was opened this morning with evidence on the part of the plaintiff, in Judge J. W. Sale's court. The following witnesses were sworn: J. F. Willey, Eugene Mitchell, Mrs. Clara Beckwith, Wm. Roper, Mrs. R. H. Dolson and Edgar Richardson. Their evidence was, in substance, the same, each testifying to knowing the plaintiff for years. Mrs. Dolson, who has known Mr. Willey since he was nine years old, testified that she came to Janesville in the early forties when Indians were numerous. Her testimony was to the effect that there was an agreement between Mr. Richardson and Mr. Willey to the effect that the latter was to receive pay for his services. The case will not be finished today.

NO PLACE TO STAY AT TOBACCO TOWN

EDGERTON IS WITHOUT A HOTEL.

"The Commercial" Turned Over to the New Owners, and the Proprietor of the United States House Quits the Business—Likely to Build a New Hostelry to Cost $15,000.

Present indications are that Edgerton is to have a $15,000 hotel. Madison parties are contemplating putting one up and the citizens of Edgerton have raised $2,000 to donate to the promotion of the enterprise. Edgerton is today—with all its boom and business enterprise—without a public house of shelter and all the commercial men who invade its borders, will, for the next week have to camp out on private houses. Carpenters have commenced remodeling the Commercial hotel which will soon be turned into a laboratory for Wilson Bros.

This leaves but one hotel in the town and that is the well known United States house. Landlord Herman R. Lidicker's lease of this hotel expires on July 1, and when his time is up he has been notified by the owners to vacate it. This notice, Landlord Lidicker thought, came rather suddenly and as long as he has got to get out any way, he thinks that he might just as well close the house first as last. Hence he has given notice to his boarders that this evening's meal will be their last one with him.

Madison parties are now contemplating the erection of a thirty-room brick hotel with all modern improvements, and to cost $15,000. The citizens have raised $2,000.

If the building is erected it will be located but a few doors from the present postoffice.

CUPID'S PLANS CONSUMED.

Stearns-Smith.

Miss Elizabeth Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Smith, of the Smith Hotel, and Charles T. Stearns, traveling engineer of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company, were married at the parlors of the hotel yesterday afternoon, Rev. C. J. Koerner, of St. Paul's church, officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by a small company of relatives and friends, and was unostentatious. The bride was attended by Miss Mary Gallitz, of this city, while John Long, also of Janesville, was the groomsmen. An elaborate wedding feast was served, and the 7:35 train took Mr. and Mrs. Stearns to Chicago. From that city they will go to Detroit and Niagara Falls. Later they will visit central New York and then proceed to Albany and take a trip down the Hudson river to New York City, Philadelphia, and back to Chicago, in which city they expect to make their home.

The bride is one of Janesville's most popular young ladies, and is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smith. She is a most worthy young woman and is held in high esteem by Janesville people.

The groom is one of the most popular of the C. & N. W. employees, and now holds the very responsible position of traveling engineer, the place being second to that of master mechanic, held by John Heath. He is in charge of the six or seven hundred engines that are in service in this jurisdiction, and his duties make it necessary for him to spend most of his time in Chicago. For some years he was a passenger engineer, and his faithful service, and valuable knowledge resulted in his promotion some time ago.

Hankey—Rabach.

Yesterday at 11 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in Watertown, occurred the marriage of Miss Anna Rabach and Albert Hankey, both of Watertown. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Carl Miller.

This bride was attended by Miss Hannah Hankey, sister of the groom, while Emil Rabach acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Hankey will reside in Janesville at which place the bride is well known.

USE MUCH WATER THESE HOT DAYS

A MILLION GALLONS ARE USED EACH DAY.

During the Fall and Winter Season the Demand Seldom Exceeds Eight Hundred Thousand Gallons—Supply Comes From Two Eleven Hundred Foot Artesian Wells.

With the advent of hot weather there is a sudden increase in the demand upon the Janesville Water company for water. Heated humanity uses the fluid in greater quantities for various purposes.

Lawns and gardens must be watered, more is used for drinking purposes and a still greater quantity is wasted by letting it run until it gets cold. Records at the pumping station show that of late 1,000,000 gallons of water have been used daily by the people of Janesville.

During the winter, and when the weather is not uncomfortably warm, the average daily use is 800,000 gallons, while on excessively hot days the amount has reached 1,200,000 gallons.

With each succeeding season the demand for water has steadily increased and as the flow from artesian wells gradually decreases the problem of how to supply this increasing demand was a problem encountered by the local company but was solved by the sinking of a new well.

At present the water supply of this city is drawn from two artesian wells which are sunk over 1100 feet below the surface of the ground.

MIGRATION.

Through the autumn woods the shadows grow
And wider and deeper the streamlets flow;
No sound but the rippling waters heard,
Or the faint low twitter of some lone bird,
Related, forgotten and wondering why
His mate had deserted him—he must fly.
For rude winds are tossing the trees overhead
And scattering the leaves of golden red
That cling as they fall to ferns pale green.
Cream tinted, like old lace some queen had worn.
So away from this scene to a cheerier one
The lone bird flies with the setting sun
And rests amidst the boughs of old oak trees,
Where Spanish moss swings in the soft, warm breeze.
There in dreams he forgets his snow bound nest
Till spring comes again—then home is best.
And with wings outspread he wanders hence
Till he finds the maple tree close by the fence,
Where year after year his mate and he
Have reared their brood in the same old tree.

ON THE LAVA BEDS.

In about the year 1842 there was born in one of the most desolate regions of the Union—the lava beds that extend from northern California into southern Oregon—an Indian girl. Her father was Se Cot, an intractable Modoc subchief, who lost his life in an attack on a party of whites emigrating to the Pacific coast in 1850. Along about 1857, when adventurous white men, seeking gold, began to penetrate the Modoc lava bed region by the several hundreds every year, there came that way a certain young Kentuckian, who had been an army sergeant stationed at the Presidio, in San Francisco. He was Frank Riddle. He had refreshments at the miserable home of the squaw widow, Se Cot, and soon took a fancy to her daughter, Wi-ne-ma, then 15 years old, and famous in that region as the best looking and most agreeable Indian girl in California. Riddle got money in gold mining in southern Oregon and soon married the handsome Modoc girl. The couple took up their abode near the gold diggings, and the young wife began to learn her husband's language. While she visited her savage brothers and sisters occasionally and bore them gifts she became weaned to the life and thought of white people. But she never dared, on pain of assassination or poisoning, to reveal her change of faith or to show that she really loved a white man.

In 1860, when gold was discovered in large quantities in the Klamath region and thousands of venturesome Americans rushed through northern California and across the lava beds, the anger of the Modocs was roused to fullest pitch by the lawlessness of the invading whites. In June, 1860, the Modocs lured 14 gold miners into a narrow canyon, and there, after unspeakable cruelties, extending over two days, let the white men die. The news of the murders by the Modocs got abroad a month later and set on fire the whole white population of northern California and southern Oregon.

In August a band of 75 whites left Yreka, Cal., to punish the Modoc savages for the act. The avengers were led by Benjamin Wright, an old mountaineer, who had hunted and fought Indians with Kit Carson, Jim Beckwith, John Scott and Jim Bridger. After a long chase through the rough country, which was not productive of good results, the chiefs were invited to meet the whites and make a treaty. This they agreed to do, and the warring parties went into camp near each other on Lost river, the Indians outnumbering the white men by three to one. Early on the morning of the conference a young Modoc squaw, breathless, her clothing torn and her feet bleeding, came into the Wright camp and asked to see the leader. She had run and walked some nine miles across the rugged mountain trail. Her errand was to warn the invaders against treachery. The night before she learned at the council fire that her people intended to surround the white men during the conference and put them to death. Wright and his men met cunning with cunning. They went into ambush near the place of conference, and when the unsuspecting Modocs fell into the trap but two escaped from the slaughter that ensued. This affair is known in the history of northern California as the Ben Wright massacre. The squaw who conveyed the timely warning to her white friends was Wi-ne-ma, the wife of Frank Riddle. This fact was never found out by her people, else her life would have been forfeited.

Eleven and a half years passed. The Modocs had been confined by the government to a defined reservation, and treaties were made with them, which were repeatedly broken. The tribe was the prey of post traders, contractors and of almost every white man who came in contact with it. The only one of the hated whites in whom the Indians had confidence was the late Judge Elijah Steele. To this man they went for counsel and advice, but in the lapse of time they even contemplated taking his life, as in the Indian mode of reasoning the death of a single white man erases the wrongs perpetrated by many.

Sullen at first under their injuries, the Modocs were awakened to fury and declared vengeance on their oppressors. The memory of any detail of the Wright affair was never allowed to fade. At every council Captain Jack or Scar Face called upon the vengeful Modocs to remember the August day when the palefaces had killed their fathers and brothers. At last, in January, 1873, the whites in northern California knew that another Indian war was at hand.

Shortly after hostilities began the government appointed a peace commissioner to confer with the rebellious redskins and endeavor to make peace. In the meantime Riddle and other squaw men on the reservation used their influence toward a settlement of the difficulty, but to no effect. The turbulent warriors led by Captain Jack were bent on a slaughter. When the peace commissioner arrived on the ground, the Indians refused to treat with him. They did, however, finally agree to surrender to Judge Steele and two other men of that region and arranged to give up their arms the following day. When Steele and his companions went to the agreed place of the surrender, not an Indian was in sight, and they returned to the military camp. Steele then agreed to go alone and interview the war chief. That night Steele went through an experience few men have endured. While talking to him in pacific terms in the Chinook jargon they were discussing their own tongue the availability of murdering their visitor. Steele understood sufficiently their language to comprehend his danger, but did not betray his knowledge. The chiefs finally decided to spare his life on condition of bringing the commissioners and commanding officers of the troops to camp with them.

But for the efforts of the brave squaw, Wi-ne-ma, war would have broken out long before. Many times she took the weapons from the hands of warriors bent on the destruction of settlers in the region, and it was she who warned the officers of the army of the trouble brewing. Her influence with her people began to wane as their rage against the whites increased. Then, too, the warriors began to mistrust her husband. Her food was poisoned by Modocs, and she was compelled to sleep in secret places for fear of death from her own brothers and relatives for her suspected undue liking for white people.

Colonel A. B. Meacham, who was in command of the military post, was a humane man and did all in his power to right the wrongs of his dusky wards. This man Wi-ne-ma revered, and when the second peace commissioner was appointed she did all in her power to prevent him from attending the council with the chiefs. She grasped his horse by the bridle, begging Meacham and Canby not to meet Jack and his band. When she found entreaty was in vain, the devoted woman mounted her pony and rode with the ill fated party to the place of meeting.

The story of that meeting has been told many times. When Meacham was attacked by the bloodthirsty Scorchin, Wi-ne-ma threw herself on the savage and begged him to spare the life of her white friend. Others coming up, Wi-ne-ma ran from warrior to warrior, turning aside their weapons. At last one of many bullets struck Meacham senseless, and the quick witted squaw turned aside the weapon aimed to finish his life, with the words, "Him dead; no use shoot." Scorchin tried to scalp Meacham, when Wi-ne-ma grasped the knife. The enraged buck struck her a terrible blow, almost knocking her senseless. Again the wit of the woman came into play. "The soldiers are coming up!" she cried, and the next moment a detachment of troops did appear. Amid curses from the enraged troopers, a dozen weapons were leveled at the breast of the brave squaw. Looking the mounted men straight in the face, she cried: "No shoot me! I tried to save them!" Then came from the ranks the words of an enlisted man, "The man who harms her I'll kill."

The same day Wi-ne-ma's husband, Riddle, was riding horseback and was shot dead from ambush by a Modoc. The body was dragged many miles over the trail by the frightened horse. When the horse stopped, the head and shoulders of the corpse were so horribly mutilated that the body was unrecognizable. Then the three little children of Wi-ne-ma and Riddle were murdered as they slept and their bodies burned in the rude family dwelling. Wi-ne-ma, under the cover of darkness and eluding the hostile members of her race and family, made her way across the desolate lava beds to the government post. She was sick and broken hearted at the horrible fate of all her family, but she nevertheless became the constant and devoted nurse of Colonel Meacham as he lay in the hospital recovering from his six gunshot wounds. It was 11 weeks before the colonel was able to leave his bed. By that time Wi-ne-ma was almost a helpless invalid. She was an important witness for the government in the trial of Captain Jack and his subordinate chiefs for the murder of General Canby and other officers, and for this she herself was shot through the chest as she sat one evening by a window at her lonely home. Colonel Meacham gave the little woman chief liberally from his means, and the soldiers at the post saw that she never lacked medical attendance and nursing.—Philadelphia Times.

The Big Hat In Church.

This is what happens to the man behind the hat. The preacher disappears until nothing remains but a voice. And with the hat standing against the spot where the voice is, and the modulated sentences breaking against it, how is attention to be fixed upon the sermon? The mind grows lax, the quiet and sweetness of the sanctuary tend to distraction, the hat fills the whole visible universe, and involuntarily one's thoughts center upon it. It is a wonderful construction. There is a yellow rose trembling on a long stem with every movement of the wearer's head, and one begins to calculate the extent of its arc. There are bunches of feathers disposed, apparently, with view to preventing anything from being seen between them whichever way the hat is turned. And there are stalactites of ribbon, upright and immovable, which still further obscure the horizon. Occasionally one gets a momentary glimpse of the hand of the preacher as it is stretched out in gesticulation, but it seems a mere detached fragment uselessly beating the air. The preacher himself has disappeared as if he had never been. The only thing visible when the hat is turned for a moment is another hat of the same kind farther on.—New York Observer.

Knights' Chargers.

During the middle ages so heavily burdened were the horses of the knights with their own armor and that of their riders that only the largest and strongest animals could be employed. Froissart says that between 600 and 700 pounds weight was carried by a knight's charger.

Interesting to the Clergy.
A minister who used to preach in Somerville had a little boy. A few days before his father left the city to go to his new parish one of his neighbors said to the little boy:
"So your father is going to work in New Bedford, is he?"
The little boy looked up, wondering.
"Oh, no," he said. "Only preach."—Somerville Journal.

Useless.
Her motherly eye is very acute, but in this case she did not know all that had occurred.
"Come, Mr. Washington," she said, affably; "I wish to present you to my daughter."
"Thank you," said Willie, "but I don't think there's any use in your trying. I have already offered myself to her and she wouldn't accept me."—Washington Star.

Not Neighborly Enough.
"Jinkinson," plaintively entreated Mrs. Wepdunks, "I wish you would be a little more sociable with these people next door. Their children have all got over the mumps now, and I want to find out if they don't use better coffee than I can borrow at the other houses around here. Besides, it's unchristian to be so distant. And I want to see how their house looks inside."—Chicago Tribune.

Getting Things Mixed.
An Irish gentleman was dining out the other night, when somebody insulted the queen. The gallant and loyal Irishman was on his feet in an instant. "Sir," said he to the culprit, "the duello is not now in fashion, but if you had made that remark 50 years ago, I would call you out to-morrow morning!"—Tit-Bits.

A Natural Advantage.
"Look here," said the pugilist's friend, "that old enemy of yours says he can whip you with one hand."
"He says that, does he? Well, you tell him I outclass him from the start. I can whip him with both hands. I'm ambidextrous and can write two letters at once."—Washington Star.

Quite Worth Considering.
"Maude says she doesn't care two cents for him."
"That is no sign she does not think a lot of him. Just think how women will fight for bargains that are marked down from $3.50 to $3.48."—Indianapolis Journal.

Something in a Name.
Little Willie—Say, honest, are you a mulatto?
Crosshatch (the artist)—No, indeed. What gave you that idea?
"Why, Sis said you was one of the best-known black-and-white men in the country."—Philadelphia Press.

Helping Him Out.
"Ah," murmured poetic Mr. Youngster, "if I could only find words to express my love for you, Miss Lovely."
"Well," said Miss Lovely, calmly, "there is the library and also the dictionary. Perhaps they might help you."—Cincinnati Tribune.

GIVES STRENGTH TO MEN

Free To All Who Are Weak And Worn

A METHOD TO CURE AND INCREASE THE POWER.

It is a remarkable fact that a man never appreciates the sufferings of others until he himself has passed through the fire of pain or remorse. Then it is that he looks around for those who are suffering; he wants them to profit by his experience; he gives his time and money gladly for the benefit of others and never tires of his zeal. There are plenty of men weak and worn out, struggling with remorse and fear, the natural outcome of habits that brought incapacity; a sense of loneliness and a feeling as if the best side of life had been banished forever. Such men should write to Thomas Slater, Box 494, Kalamazoo, Mich. He will send free by mail, in a plain, sealed envelope, full particulars about the method he used, and this will enable any man to get a complete cure at home. It is the method that Mr. Slater used to cure himself of the troubles that sap the strength and vigor and also enlarged his organs to natural size. The cure was complete, so satisfying and such a wonderful change in his former condition that he will gladly tell others all about it, sending all particulars. He figures that he doesn't know of a better way to show his appreciation of his own cure and sufferings of others. There must be generous men in this world to offset the tide of avarice. Write to Mr. Slater—it will cost nothing for his description and method.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

THE NEW SUPERINTENDANT OF JOLIET'S SCHOOLS.

College Education and Life—Modified Milk. A Syracuse Woman Lawyer—Women in Active Journalism—New Shadow Veils. Hot Weather Food.

Mrs. Kate Henderson, who was recently appointed superintendent of the Joliet schools, is the first woman to occupy that important position. She is a thorough educator, experienced and modern, and has won her way to eminence by natural ability and hard work. Her selection for the post of superintendent gives general satisfaction. The new superintendent was Miss Kate Alpine. She came to Joliet from Wisconsin in 1859, and her education was acquired chiefly in the public schools of the city. She began to teach in 1866 and continued in that work until 1879, when she was married to James E. Henderson. In 1881 she returned to her profession, and since that time she has taught in almost every department of the schools. Mrs. Henderson studied while she taught. In 1895 she was elected a member of the school board at large, and her work in that body has been most gratifying. Her good judgment in selecting and assigning teachers, in the instruction of young teachers and in other matters regarding the advancement of the public schools and their operation has now been rewarded by placing her at the head of the educational machinery of the city. The position is an important one. Mrs. Henderson will receive $2,200 per year and will have complete charge of the schools. The board has given her the place as a promotion. She will be supplied with all the assistants she requires, and education in Joliet, it is believed, will be given a new impetus by her efforts. Mrs. Henderson has been in the service 31 years.—Joliet Cor. Chicago Times-Herald.

MRS. KATE HENDERSON.

College Education and Life.

Inevitably at this time of the year, when all through the country young men and women are being graduated from school and college, the mind of the elderly person gravitates toward a discussion of a problem which crops up as regularly as the weeds of a country wayside. "How well does a college education fit the individual for the real issues of life?" the elderly person asks whenever a newspaper column is open to him or a listening ear is presented. Because he sees no direct result to be obtained from a knowledge of Greek roots when a knowledge of nursing bottles is required he decries the knowledge of Greek roots, and he does this often so wittily that his arguments are remembered when the common sense of the other side is forgotten.

And yet the common sense is so palpable. The education of the young, as has many times been pointed out, is meant for development, but most of all it is meant for making the young familiar with ground already gone over by previous generations, so that when the peculiar genius of the individual begins to be felt opportunity for its free expression may be found at once, and no time lost in useless experiments. A college education gives a young girl the possibility for many opportunities, which she exercises or not, as inclination prompts.

She may not be trained for the nursery by it, but then neither does home life train her for it, unless she has young sisters and brothers in whose care she takes a share.

But it does broaden her mind, enlarge her sympathies, widen her perceptions and increase her knowledge of human nature, and all these things mean the possibility of her being a more potent factor in the home over which she may be called to preside. It does not mean greater sweetness and love in her; neither does it mean less. College education neither creates nor destroys qualities that are integral parts of individual character.

But the best part of college training, both for men and women, is that the ideal which belongs peculiarly to certain institutions is cultivated. The ideal of honor and of truth telling fostered at the West Point academy, for instance, has had its influence on every graduate, and kept our army, whatever its shortcomings may have been, in point of honor above reproach. The ideal of a college molds its members to it, and this, after all, when the ideal is a good one, seems, for men and women alike, as good a preparation for life as practical training in the various arts.—Harper's Bazar.

Modified Milk.

The approach of hot weather is regarded with dread by many a weary mother who understands the increased perils which surround the life of her little one at that time of the year, especially if it is so unfortunate as to be found "nursing the bottle."

In summer the child's nervous system, always easily influenced, is so much at the mercy of the heat that any deviation from the natural order of things is sure to result unfavorably.

The cause of many a serious digestive disturbance will be found to lie outside of any suspected change in the character of the milk. The milk may be sterilized and mixed with various ingredients to render it more easily digested, according to the best known formulas, and it still remains to modify it to suit the immediate wants of the individual case.

If the milk is too rich—that is to say, if it has too much fat in it—the little stomach will be unable to digest it fully. This failure will cause a looseness of the bowels, and if the case, although so simple, is misunderstood and therefore improperly treated, exhaustion and even collapse may eventually be the result—a literal instance of "starving in the midst of plenty." The superfluous fat keeps the bowels in a continued state of irritation.

On the other hand, if too much sugar is present in the milk, the opposite effect is produced and the child suffers nearly as much from the retention in the system of matter which should have been eliminated. The child usually becomes excessively nervous and fussy, and no treatment is of avail until the bowels are regulated.

As might be expected, it is possible to "play off" these two facts, one against the other. And this is what is meant by modified milk. If it is suspected that there is too much fat in the milk it may not only be diluted until the desired proportion is reached, but more sugar may be added, to insure the speedy recovery of the little patient.

In the same way the milk may be made richer, if occasion seems to require it, by the addition of a little cream.

It is only by watching the child carefully and striving to appreciate the changes which are taking place in its sensitive organism that the attempt to forestall serious disturbance of the alimentary canal will be made successful. It is needless to say that the giving of modified milk is only one of the many measures which are employed in successful nursing.—Youth's Companion.

A Syracuse Woman Lawyer.

All through the greater part of the session one day recently a young, pretty and well dressed woman sat quietly in one of the rear seats in the courtroom. As women seldom appear in the appellate court, there was much speculation among those present as to who she was and what had occasioned her presence there. Late in the afternoon, when the case of Charles E. Millen, respondent, against the New York Central Railroad company, appellant, was called up for argument, the young woman, to the astonishment of everybody in the room, calmly arose and walked up before the bar, where she took a seat as one of the counsel. Ex-United States Senator Frank Hiseock of Syracuse appeared as attorney for the railroad company, and it then transpired that the woman represented the respondent in the case.

The lady was Miss Julia Jenny of Syracuse, a member of the well known law firm of Jenny & Marshall of that city. Although only 26 years of age, she has already gained the reputation of being one of the brightest lawyers in this section of the state. Six years ago she graduated from Vassar college with high honors, and then entered Cornell University Law school for a two years' course. During her stay there she was considered to be one of the brightest students in the institution. A short time after completing the course she tried the state law examination and was admitted to the bar.

Miss Jenny's father is Colonel William Jenny, one of the most prominent anticorporation lawyers in the state and the senior member of the firm of Jenny & Marshall. After being admitted to the bar Miss Jenny became a clerk in her father's office, and has since shown so much ability in the handling of difficult cases that she was recently made a member of the firm.

Miss Jenny is a handsome woman of the brunette type and a very fluent, eloquent and convincing speaker. In the course of the argument of the case yesterday she proved herself to be a worthy opponent in every way of her distinguished antagonist, ex-Senator Hiseock.—Rochester Herald.

Women in Active Journalism.

Woman's day in active journalism, says Hayot Holt Cahoon, has been a brief one. There has been no proclamation of the fact that woman's day in the field of daily journalism is past, but among editors and women workers there is an unspoken conviction that such is the case. The newspaper changes its standard now and then. One of the changes occurred about eight years ago, when it took women workers into its pages. In blacklisting the women writers because they are women, not because they are writers, there is evidence that the standard has changed again.

Women are not as adaptable in business life as men are. The woman who writes is no exception to this rule. The times called her and she responded—called her because she was a woman, and as such her views were novel. She played her part in the freak show. She offered herself as a condiment to the great unsatiated maw of the daily newspaper, until as a condiment her savory qualities lost their savor. As a novelty she no longer attracts.

Men have much to contend with in daily journalism. For example, the daily newspaper is made by young men. Unlike other professions, the experience of years does not accentuate the value of services in journalism. The man who is able to earn $10,000 per year in the fifth year of experience is more than likely to earn $2,000 in the tenth year of his experience. The man who holds his own against the great onward march of youth into the journalistic field is the man who has become a specialist. His specialism may be reminiscent, he may be a statistician, a political writer or an authority on stocks and Wall street; certain it is he must be individual. Then his advancing years are tolerated. Women must also become specialists in order to resist the prejudice against time and sex.

New Shadow Veils.

If you want a veil warranted to insure good looks, get a shadow veil. It is the latest thing in face coverings, and it is declared to be the one and only thing of its sort which will properly—that is to say, becomingly—protect your features.

A shadow veil comes in the very finest black or white silk tulle, and is cut on a pattern so skillfully manipulated that when the veil is pinned in place not a single wrinkle crosses one's face. The pattern takes somewhat the form of a gibbous moon, and the point striven after is to avoid wrinkles in the veiling, for they seem to throw lines of age into the face. The bottom edge of a shadow veil has a narrow selvage, and then through the tulle run, an eighth of an inch apart, parallel lines of black thread that are very fine.

Shadow veils are sold with six or eight or ten of these lines, some of them running up high enough to cast their shadow over the mouth, while pretty girls wear those that have lines clear up to the level of the eyes. It is almost as inexplicable, but nevertheless a very important fact, that any skin under a well lined shadow veil appears to excellent advantage, and that under this cobweb covering, whether bought in black or white, defects of the facial cuticle are not apparent to the keenest eye.—Philadelphia Press.

Hot Weather Food.

"On broiling days," says a busy woman, "food is very distasteful. I find myself ignoring luncheon hour, and then in the middle of the afternoon I am exhausted in consequence. This is not right. One needs nourishing food through such strain of weather, but not heating food. If I cannot eat at noon, I at least go out and get an egg phosphate. There are both nourishment and a little stimulant in this drink. I take care to go to a place where I can see the fresh egg broken into the glass, which I find more appetizing and nourishing than the extract used at some soda fountain counters. About 5 o'clock I get a second one, and in this way I get through a broiling day with comfort. Two raw eggs, I find, are sufficient nourishment from breakfast to dinner, both of which meals I force myself, if the inclination is lacking, to partake of amply. Physicians say that systems weakened by fasting succumb easily to the effects of heat, but, on the other hand, hearty, hot meals in the middle of the day for one who must go on working through the heat of the afternoon are not to be recommended. It seems to me the egg phosphate diet solves the problem."—New York Times.

A Woman's Clinic.

The Woman's clinic of Washington has been in existence five years. The physicians are all women, assisted by women students only. Dr. Ida Heiberger, Dr. Mary Portman, Dr. Nordhoff and Dr. Smith being among the number of active workers.

Dr. Heiberger is a graduate of the Pennsylvania Woman's Medical college and the University of Leipzig, having spent five years abroad studying her profession.

The advisory board of consulting physicians includes the names of the leading men practitioners of the city. The clinic is located in a commodious house on Fourteenth street, and its success and consequent helpfulness is due to the sagacity, perseverance and personal sacrifices made by women in its behalf.

Spectacles.

A great many people use spectacles many years before there is any need of them. Instead of giving their eyes a rest they keep them at work, with the aid and encouragement of glasses, sometimes ill fitted and really injurious. So, when the eyes "give out," let us, if we are situated so that we possibly can, give them a chance to see what they can do for themselves and try a complete rest.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Lattice Cloth.

Lattice cloth is a pretty material for draperies, made in an openwork style, which the name implies. They are cotton, come in all colors and are inexpensive for summer use. Those in the linen color are the most serviceable, as there is no danger of their fading. They can be lined with inexpensive silks if desired.

Woman's Thrift in Massachusetts.

Woman's capacity as a wage earner can be measured by the fact that the report of the Massachusetts savings bank commissioners showed that in the year 1894, out of a total of 1,044,649 depositors, 480,835 were women, and out of $74,946,570 deposits that year $33,469,023 had been deposited by women.

Dean Matthews of Des Moines said in a recent sermon on "Young Women in Business Circles": "Young women, you have gone into the markets of the world as workers. Prepare to do your work on an equality with man, and do not think it a charity or ask it as a favor. And, above all, don't cry."

Women have had the right to vote for vestrymen for two years in the Episcopal diocese of California, and an attempt to make them ineligible has just been defeated in the diocesan convention.

Mrs. Clarinda M. Cope, Mrs. Winnie M. Crissy, Mrs. Sarah Crowley and Mrs. F. H. Greene, all of Chicago, have been appointed deputy factory inspectors for Illinois by Governor Tanner.

The women of British Columbia failed by the lack of only two votes to receive the suffrage at the hands of the legislature. Such a defeat means victory next time.—Golden Rule.

An Accurate Answer.

"There," said Mr. Meekton's wife, "I've gathered ever so many mushrooms."

"Have you?" responded her husband.

"Yes. Here they are in this basket. What in this world are we going to do with them?"

"Henrietta," was the solemn reply, "if we eat some of these there will be no possibility of our doing anything in this world with the rest."—Washington Star.

Hot to Get Her.

"You see, it was like this," he said in explaining his courtship. "I didn't let her think for a minute that I wanted to get her."

"No?"

"Oh, dear, no; that wouldn't do at all."

"Then what did you do?"

"Why, I succeeded in making her think that there was a very large chance that she couldn't get me, and then, of course, no one else would suit her."

"Ah! You had had experience with women before."—Chicago Post.

Economy.

Young Husband—Been shopping.

Young Wife—Yes.

Young Husband—Been economical?

Young Wife—So much so that I felt positively ashamed of myself.

Young Husband—Well, how much money have you left?

Young Wife—Oh, I haven't any money left, but you ought to see what bargains I got?—N. Y. Truth.

Nothing to Steal.

New Father-in-law—Well, sir, the ceremony is over, and now that you are the husband of my daughter I want to give you a little advice. What would you do if you should wake up some night and find burglars in the house?

Groom—I should tell them that my father-in-law forgot to give my wife a wedding dowry, and they'd go away.—N. Y. Weekly.

The Reason Why.

Husband (angrily)—There are not many wives who would go off every night and leave their husbands alone with nobody but the servant in the house.

Wife (complacently)—I know that, but you see I have every confidence in you, and am not a bit jealous.—N. Y. Tribune.

Old age

comes early to the clothes that are dragged up and down over the wash-board. It's ruinous. Nothing else uses them up so thoroughly and so quickly.

This wear and tear, that tells so on your pocket, ought to be stopped. Get some Pearl-line—use it just as directed—no soap with it—and see how much longer the clothes last, and how much easier and quicker the work is. Pearl-line saves the rubbing.

Send it Back Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearl-line." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearl-line, be honest—send it back.
